VANCOUVER, (CP)—The possibility United States shipping firms will grab most of the pre-war Pacific trade handled by the now non-existent Japanese merchant navy because of the lack of initiative by Canadians concerned was seen here Thursday.

An observer familiar with the Vancouver shipping situation said the Americans have jumped into the battle for the shipping business "with both feet" while Canadian shipping firms appear slow in re-entering.

This observer commented that the "golden opportunity" provided for expanding Canada's shipping in the Pacific apparently is being missed.

At present there are 46 freighters, all 10,000-tonners, operating out of Vancouver and although this gives the port a higher tonnage than in pre-war years, they are not going after the permanent peacetime business.

These freighters, all slow vessels built for convoys, are handling chiefly UNRRA shipments to Asia and Europe.

More than 100 American firms have re-established agencies or branches in Shanghai. Canadian Pacific Steamships Co. was the major dominion firm to do this, but to date this firm has not given any definite indication when or if it will resume those lines.

Ate Too Much; Kept in Cage

NIIKATA, Japan, (AP)—Masahide Naka, a Japanese, now is free from his cage and apparently eating to his heart's content.

Masahide had spent late afternoons and evenings for the last two months in that cage, handcuffed. His wife and eldest son, figured he ate too much and concluded a cage and manacles were the surest way to keep him from the cupboard.

When Masahide returned from work they would hustle him into the coop, handcuff him and set before him the amount of food they judged he needed.

Masahide's father came to visit him, called the police, and is urging Masahide to get a divorce.

Shows Enthusiasm
On North Country

PORT ST. JOHN, N.S.—That he had seen fertile valleys near Fort Nelson capable of supporting 150,000 head of cattle was the statement of Hon. Frank Pitman, minister of agriculture for the province, after a tour of the Alaska highway to the Yukon.

Accompanied by Dr. J. B. Munro, deputy minister, and a group of soil experts, the minister visited all farm settlements in B. C. east of the Rockies. He said the soil was magnificent what I have ever seen is growing today in the Montney and Blueberry areas north of Port St. John, not far from the highway. I am afraid, the minister said, every promise of a great crop this year.

The Peace river country is going in too much for mining the gold and silver. That will play out the land in time. The soil must have something turned back into it.

Lords Ask Strength
In Defence Policy
LONDON, (Reuters)—The House of lords Wednesday urged stronger measures to control Palestine, maintain the peace in India and defend Egypt.

Debate on the government's defence policy, Lord Morris said the Jerusalem bomb explosion Monday is a poor return for the asylum we have offered to the Jews throughout the world.

"It is all very well for the Americans to sneer at us and pretend they could govern Palestine with one hand and India with the other, but Palestine is an extremely difficult place to deal with," Lord Morris added.

Norway Continues German Project

NEW YORK, (ONA)—One project for Norway, which was planned during the German occupation, is now the approval of the Norwegian legislature, and steps have been taken to put it into effect. The Nazis had formed a German company, Nordag, to carry out a long-term industrialization of the country, with emphasis on developing hydro-electric power.

The plan is to build a state-controlled corporation to put the plan into effect.

One of the first tasks of the new company will be to complete the large aluminum plant at Ardal. Most of the buildings were finished by the Germans and thousands of tons of machinery had arrived but never were installed.

The plant will have a capacity at the start of 12,000 tons a year and an increase to 24,000 tons is expected soon after production begins. A power station servicing the plant with 90,000 kilowatt hours is virtually ready. Other power plants servicing the plant will be the hydro-electric stations at Gland and Aurs.

Work will begin in the fall on building large iron and steel works which will probably be located at Mo, in northern Norway. Production will start in 1947, with a total of 200,000 tons of finished rolled mill goods. The works will permanently employ 1,400 workers according to the Norwegian information service.

Howe Criticized
By Lumber Trade

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe's declaration that if the ceiling price on lumber would rise from $600 to $1,000 "it would be in accordance with the law" is not in accordance with the law, according to the lumber trade, the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association said.

The statement issued Wednesday said: "This estimate of a rise of $400 in the cost of lumber per board foot is based on the price of $600 in the cost of lumber per board foot. It is not in accordance with the law."

The statement added that the association, whose members operate nearly 900 lumber yards in western Canada, considers such statements as Mr. Howe's "misleading, but definitely harmful, and feels they should be retracted."

Helicopter Fastest
For Short Travel

HARTFORD, (AP)—A helicopter won a race to test the comparative speed of different modes of transportation under normal travelling conditions.

The race, pitted the United Aircraft Corporation, pitted the helicopter against a Lockheed Lodestar plane, an automobile and a train over approximately 50 miles between Bridgeport and East Hartford.

The helicopter covered 51 miles between the starting and finishing lines in 31 minutes flat. Its time was 15 minutes, 40 seconds faster than that made by the passenger travelling by plane.

Passenger travelling by the other modes of transportation lost time going to and from airports in the case of the Lockheed, by observing traffic rules and conditions in the case of the automobile and by travelling to and from stations via the train.

Say Haggis Off
Rationed List

LONDON, (Reuters)—In this rationed-land, haggis, that Scottish dish which baffles all non-Scots, will remain rationed.

Mr. Edith Summerskill, parliamentary secretary to the minister of food, gave that assurance to parliament Wednesday and then brought applause with what a Scottish member said was the first real definition of haggis ever given.

"The decision that haggis will remain rationed was not taken to prevent an uprising in Scotland. But because haggis contains the heart, lungs and liver of sheep, chopped up with suet, onions and oatmeal."

Boy's Faithful Pal Saved From Pound

LONDON, (CP)—The house of lords Wednesday passed the national insurance bill which increases financial aid in unemployment and illness and enlarges old-age and other pensions.

The bill, one of the most advanced of the Labour government's social program, now requires only the assent of His Majesty the King to become law.

The legislation, which provides basic medical care for all, has been served by Conservative members. It has been claimed it endangers the freedom of patient and doctor.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan said the bill providing free medical service for everyone in the United Kingdom, places Britain in the forefront of the world. The minister has estimated the plan will cost £52,000,000 ($600,000,000) annually.

The government hopes to have the bill in operation in 1948. Hospitals will be brought under state control. Doctors will be permitted to enter public service wholly or on a part-time basis, or to remain altogether outside the public service. Local authorities are given the duty of providing medical services.

The British Medical association has said it will oppose the bill. A referendum should take place with program of folk dancing, gymnastics, sports competitions and unique Ukrainian games in front of the exhibition grandstand.

Russians on Way

LONDON, (CP)—A Tass news agency dispatch from Kiev Wednesday said a five-member delegation has left Russia to participate in a festival of Ukrainian songs and dances at Edmonton. The Western Canada Folk Festival will be held in Edmonton Saturday and Sunday. The festival choir and orchestra program will be in the arena and the Sunday program of folk dancing, gymnastics, sports competitions and unique Ukrainian games in front of the exhibition grandstand.

U.S. Communists
To Be Aggressive

NEW YORK, (AP)—United States Communists, as the result of a statement by their national board Wednesday, are to be aggressive in their policy of "line a return to Communist militancy and 'class-conscious' Marxist-Leninist theories."

The statement of conclusions promulgated by the national board was published in the Daily Worker, official party organ. The board met in plenary sessions July 15-18.

Members were directed "To organize mass actions against inflation, price rises and high rents to initiate and coordinate movements for the reopening of the economy."

"To mobilize the party and labor for support of the candidates, platform and aims of the labor progressive forces in the coming November elections."

"To launch a new drive for the breaking of diplomatic and economic relations with France and Great Britain and the United States troops out of China and the halt of American aid to the Chiang regime which is waging civil war."

The statement said Eugene Dennis was unanimously elected general secretary of the Communist party.

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—A 42-year-old man, his head covered by a canvas money bag, plunged to death Tuesday from a multi-story window of the Land Title Bank and was found by police in a nearby building. The man was found with a note written in red crayon, which bore two arrows and said: "Look down."

Garson
Clayton W. Waitt was grim-faced and prepared profusely as he admitted the defects in the inquiry. He said he had ordered by his department and the resultant deaths might never have come into the open but for letters written to the Mead committee by overseas veterans.

Previously, he and other chemical warfare officials had praised the "war effort" of the Garsons, who are alleged to have run a few weeks' chemical warfare business with the help of the Washington influence of Rep. Andrew May, a Kentucky, chairman of the house "warfare" committee.

He said he had combined business with pleasure and used department travel orders to attend the party. He said he was in New York for Nautilus, a ship of the Marine Corps, the other half of the brotherhood, and that the Garsons paid him $1,000 a month in living allowances from the army.

Trio Almost Atom Target

ABOARD U.S.S. MCKINLEY,
AP—Three men aboard the target transport Gasconade in Bikini lagoon presumably spent an anxious time early Thursday.

Lookouts aboard M. McKinley noticed, as the flagship steamed toward the east of the lagoon, a flag hoist of bunting flying from the Gasconade indicating men were still aboard, although they were supposed to have left hours before.

A tug was ordered to investigate. Men standing at the rail, apparently awakened, realized they were still aboard the target ship with the explosion hour drawing nigh, and had no radio.

They did the only thing left—flew the bunting.

Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blyndy, through binoculars watched the target boat pick them up, his scowl boiling trouble for whoever had slipped up.

Flandin Claims Aid
In African Landing

During the five hours he was on the stand, Flandin read a letter from Winston Churchill which praised him for his loyalty.

'Hoppers Checked By Wet Weather

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C.—Countless armies of grasshoppers were hopped down by the Peace River country as a result of continuing cool nights, rain and damp weather generally.

Some tons of grasshopper poison sprayed by the B. C. department of agriculture, was supposed to be distributed to farmers this week, to stem the tide of a menacing invasion of hoppers. Farm experts said that the jump in the weather drowned out so many of the insects that it might not be necessary to lay out poison in the field.

As farmers went on with the clearing of 5,000 acres of new land near Alaska highway from the Peace River north, they looked up in dismay at the sight of the insects this year to yield the greatest crop in history of this part of the nation.

A snow flurry Tuesday starting at Blueberry and extending northward meant up roads but did no damage. The snow, too, was bitter tea for the grasshoppers.

Land Rush Staged For Single Parcel

FORT ST. JOHN—Scenes which recalled early land rushes were enacted seven miles from Rose Prairie when five farmers staged a land rush for a quarter section of crown land open for purchase from the government of British Columbia at $10 per acre.

Jim Parrish, a Yorkshire lad, whose parents homesteaded at Battleford, Sask., years ago, succeeded in getting his stakes in first and his notice posted. He will have first chance to buy but before securing title he must advertise his land notice in the district press.

Hundreds of applications to purchase have been flowing into government land offices in northeastern B.C. caused chiefly by persistent rumors of railway extension from the coast. Added to this is the fact that a bumper crop is in sight. Quarter sections are being snapped up in all townships between the Peace River bridge and Fort Nelson in areas within easy distance of the Alaska highway.

Charges Taxpayer Is Beaten Trying to Launch an Appeal

By Richard Sandburn
OTTAWA. (CP)—A taxpayer in dispute with the federal tax collector was "licked before he starts," if the assessment under argument involved one of the 86 discretionary powers vested in the minister of national revenue.

The charge in the house Wednesday by Donald Fleming (Prog. Cons., Toronto Edgmont) in criticism of the two proposed new tax boards, the appeal board and the advisory board.

The appeal board, he said, would have no power at all to review the manner in which the minister exercised discretionary powers.

And the advisory board had no power either. It could advise the minister on the exercise of these powers, but there was no obligation on the minister to accept the advice.

"There is still no appeal from the exercise of discretionary powers," said Mr. Fleming. "The taxpayer just has not a chance. He is licked before he starts. If the minister is permitted to invoke one of those 86 discretionary powers given him, under the Income Tax Act, the authority to do more than 'advise' with no obligation on the part of the minister to accept advice."

Opposition Front Hinted in Britain

LONDON. (Reuters)—A move to form an "anti-Socialist front" in parliament by pooling voting strength in opposition to Britain's Labor government being proposed by some Conservative members, it was understood.

The plan, which does not envisage a fusion of parties, is reported to have been the subject of discussions among Conservative and some members of the Liberal party whose group is third in strength in the house.

Some members say such a group would be led by conservative leader Winston Churchill, who many believe has resolved not to retire at least until the end of the present session.

The Labor party holds about 400 seats in the 640-seat house. The Conservatives are next in strength with nearly 200, and the Liberals have 25.

Human Chain Helps Rescue

LONDON. (CP)—An army of 11-year-olds joined in a human chain of some 50 persons who had watched the earlier rescue attempts from the beach.

The four men rescued by Cyril Adley, 11, and James Groves, 12, both of 25, Thomas, then got into difficulty in the high waves and strong undertow. Their shouts resulted in the rescue of 11-year-olds. Some men went into the water fully clothed.

The problem of discretionary powers was so urgent it could not be deferred, said Mr. Fleming, and he appealed to the government not only to whittle down the present powers given to the minister but also to give the advisory board power to review the exercise of these powers.

Camsell, C.M.G., of Ottawa, for a life of mines and resources. It will be opened officially by the governor-general during his visit to Edmonton Aug. 26.

Firemen on Job; Too Late for Roast

CALGARY. (CP)—Not only was the family dinner ruined but the neighbors were upset and the fire department answered a false alarm when a Calgary housewife left a roast of beef to burn Wednesday and went out for the day.

Acting Finance Minister Abbott, a little hurt, said the government was already taxing the juke business. He didn't promise to accept Mr. Hansell's suggestion. "Probably unconstitutional. Something to do with freedom of speech."

Still Seek Bodies In Bombed Hotel

JERUSALEM. (CP)—The death toll of Monday's bombing of the King David hotel Thursday rose to 83 and the list of missing dropped to 55 as medical officers and engineers at the scene abandoned hope that any victims were still alive in the rubble.

Rescuers' new agency reported casualties at 66 dead.

Fatigued but grimly-determined soldiers continued, nevertheless, to plow through a slowly diminished pile of debris. Six persons had been rescued previously from the ruins.

LONDON. (CP)—Arab sources in London said Thursday the British government is exerting all possible influence on the United States in an effort to sell a plan to split Palestine into communal units of Jews and Arabs.

These sources said they were privy to information that British officials in the Holy Land had convinced Britain there was no hope of establishing a peaceful state in which neither Jews nor Arabs would dominate.

At the same time, the Arabs say Britain is embarrassed by findings of the Anglo-American committee of inquiry, which specifically recommended against partition of Palestine.

Meanwhile, A. Abraham, spokesman for the former New Zionist Council, said the British government of "dishonesty" in connection with a white paper issued Wednesday announcing his resignation from the party in protest against an editorial in the C.C.F. News criticising Mr. Justice Harmer for granting an injunction against the International Typographical union (A.T.U.) on strike at the Vancouver Daily Province.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Lucas said he assumed the editorial was a completely unjustified and foundationless attack which acted upon the fundamentals of self-respect, would be nullity of.

Hint Stolen Beer Smuggled to U.S.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Rumors a ring is operating to ship stolen beer into New York state were rife here following discovery of an abandoned transport truck with 500 cases of beer in Stamford township. The truck had been stolen from a Kitchener warehouse.

Police said they believed a gang meant to load the beer into cars and transport it across the border. The truck was discovered stuck in the mud by a taxidermist who summoned police. Some of the cases had been removed and hidden in the bush, and 125 cases were missing.

Police at Kitchener said the beer might be linked with the theft of a truck $5,000 worth of cigarettes and $100 cash from a Kitchener warehouse.

That truck was found the next day three miles from Galt.

Security of beer in New York state and export restrictions on Canadian beer might be causes for smuggling of stolen beer across the border.

Import of beer to the United States is limited to one case per person.

American All-Stars Beat Canucks in K.C. Benefit Game By 8-2

Losers Went Off the Beam After Four Snappy Innings

Mayfair's In Fine Shape For Dominion Amateur Golf Tourney

Saskatoon All-Stars Play At Renfrew Park Saturday

American all-stars squared accounts with the Canadians when they turned in an 8-2 win in the Knights of Columbus exhibition baseball game before more than 3,000 at Renfrew Park on Wednesday night.

Bill (Portage la Prairie) Whyte and Eddie (Lefty) Belter retired from the hit after four innings of really good baseball with the score deadlocked at two-all, but Bert Cuiver's club collected six more runs (four earned) in the remaining frames.

George Thompson, the Kent Washington, pitcher finished out the game for the winners securing credit for the victory, while Walter Johnson and Ralph Morgan were the other two members of the Canadian pitching corps.

Whyte Was Snappy

The Canadian manager, Ralph Morgan, manager of the Cubs were able to reach Whyte for only three scattered singles during the first three innings, although they did fill the bases with one out in the third.

American secured an unearned run in their half by George Thompson on safeties by Howard Peers and Whyte, a stolen base and error by the pitcher, while Johnson, from centre following the pitcher's hit.

A single by Al Superstein, a stolen base, Lefty Belter's double and Doug Stewart's walk into left sent Canadians out in front in the top of the fourth, but the Americans came right back with a run, a counter in their half.

Pete Tedeschi threw a walk, counter, went to third on Tom Kelly's hit to left and scored on error by the Canadian catcher.

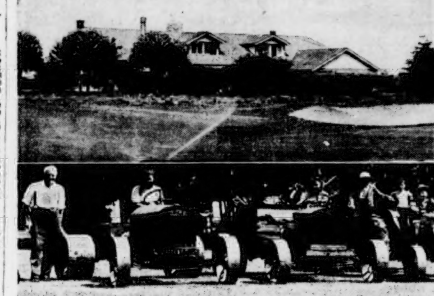

This Did It

Bert Cuiver's team went out in front to stay on three earned runs in the fifth, Walter Johnson, who retired for the second time, hit a home run, Flores and Cuiver, the latter a face hit and a walk, were hit by Morgan. Successive hits by Galvin, Valenti and Tedeschi did the damage.

Galvin laced the ball over the right field fence in the seventh and third inning, while Johnson added the final runs for the Americans in the seventh.

Mayfair Golf and Country Club has been a hive of industry for the past several months as preparations went on apace for the staging of the 1946 Canadian Amateur Golf tournament. When the field of more than 100 of the dominion's finest shot-makers takes to the course next Tuesday in the opening round they will find themselves hitting par on a layout that is in grand shape. Supervising the many hours of labor that have gone into bringing the course to the desired condition has been Manager-Secretary Tommy Morrison. He is shown in a side-view of the Mayfair clubhouse—with the 11th green hard by—and the grounds crew. Morrison is on the extreme left.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl 30 years old. Am engaged to a man six years senior. I have a good job and am used to spending my money the way I want to. This man never takes me anywhere. When he comes to my home he just sits and sits. He thinks that I am very extravagant and criticizes me if I buy more than two hats a year. He says I cannot work after we are married.

When our views are so different, do you think we will be happy together?

ON THE FENCE
 Answer: Not a chance in the world of it, my dear. You will be miserable and the man will be miserable, and life will be just one perpetual wrangle over money.

DON'T MARRY a stingy man. He is the worst husband there is in the world. Furthermore, meanness and stinginess are not confined to the pocketbook. They extend to the soul, and he will starve you for love and appreciation just as he will for food.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am going to be married very soon and I want to make a happy home for my husband. I do not want to be a half-and-half wife. So I shall put welcome on the doormat for his friends and I shall not put him through a questionnaire about his earnings and goings. I shall keep myself attractive to him at all times.

Do you think I am too easygoing in my plans?

RUTH T.
 Answer: Indeed, no. Your plans for making a happy home and making your marriage a success are the very essence of wisdom. The real secret of managing a husband is to drive him with a light rein.

Australia Needs

Thousands Homes

SYDNEY, Australia, July 25 (CP)—Australian government officials estimate that the country needs at least 250,000 new homes, and that it will take at least 10 years to build them.

IN THE LIGHT of this shortage, the Commonwealth government drew up a housing program which aimed at the construction of 24,000 homes in the year ended July 30, by government and private agencies.

Latest government reports are that this program will be realized. The reports estimate that 19,450 dwellings had been constructed by June 1 or were under construction.

The government agencies implementing the program are the housing commission set up in each state by the state governments on the advice of the federal government.

IN NEW SOUTH WALES, the largest populated state, the housing commission plans the building of between 4,000 and 5,000 homes, which will be the largest single-home construction program to be undertaken by any Australian government.

The new suburb will have a population of 25,000 and will have its own churches, schools, community hotel, shopping centre, movie theatre, sports oval, libraries, kindergarten, landscape gardens and public parks.

Meantime, the government has turned over many abandoned military camps into housing settlements, providing an interesting pointer to community life.

ONE OF THESE settlements is at Hurtle Bay, an outlying Sydney suburb where 1,000 people awaiting homes live. Here, the residents have built their own township round them with a butcher, greengrocer, grocer and fire squad.

They have also organized a Younger Set Club with membership open for those between 14 and 25, and a welfare association of senior tenants which organizes social functions and takes care of distressed cases where furniture or help is needed.

THE RESIDENTS plan the construction later of a playground, day nursery, and first aid hut.

Some Fireworks May Develop At Paris Peace Conference

By EDWARD R. BEATTIE
 PARIS, July 25 — (UPI)

The plain truth about the Paris peace conference which opened five days hence appeared today to be that nobody, none of the large powers nor the smaller powers, likes the decisions which it is going to make.

BUT, IT APPEARED to be equally true that none of the powers had much hope that anything could be done about this situation.

Two clouds hover over the conference—one caused by the fact that the big four agreed to compromises that none of them really likes and the other stemming from the fact that the conference will turn its back completely on the major issue overhanging Europe—the future of Germany.

Everyone at the conference knows that the big four is not near an agreement on the fate of Germany or on the key issue of a central administration for the Reich. Everyone knows also that the Potsdam policies for Germany are falling apart due to disagreement among the big four and muddy language used in the Potsdam declaration.

IN GENERAL the Paris conference is going to approve the first draft treaties which have been prepared by the big four deputies since the close of the second Paris conference July 13. The big four have the voice and the big four regard these drafts as the best they could do under the circumstances.

But, before the 21 nations approve these documents and turn them back to the big four for ministers for final re-drafting there is going to be plenty of talk about big four methods. Many of the smaller powers don't like the endless delays in getting the peace down on paper and just as many of the smaller powers don't like the endless delays in getting the peace down on paper and just as many of the smaller powers don't like the endless delays in getting the peace down on paper.

THE LITTLE POWERS have been fairly quiet up to now. But beginning Monday they are going to make themselves heard against the sounding board of the peace conference.

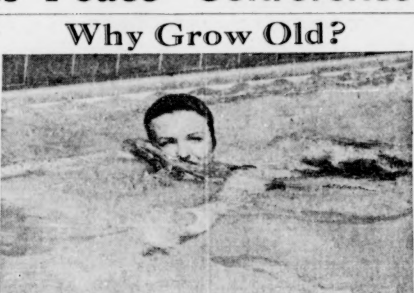

One subject on which they will be strongly vocal is the Russian concept of a world rule by the big four who first agree on what shall be done and then tell the little powers to do it.

There are four points on which there will be fireworks.

1- Trieste, Italy doesn't like the big four plan for internationalization. Yugo-Slavia doesn't like it either for the opposite reasons. Partisans of both sides will tell the big four that the plan won't work and will create a running sore in international relations.

2- ITALIAN REPARATIONS. The big four finally and reluctantly agreed to give Russia $100,000,000 with another $200,000,000 to be split among Yugo-

Why Grow Old?

Swimming is an excellent exercise to firm your muscles generally and give you a better figure. It's fun, too, as you can see from the way Actress Joan Winfield is enjoying it above.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
 I receive many letters which show a misconception of what different types of exercise will accomplish. A recent letter asks, "Will swimming develop the chest and hips?"

Slavia, Greece and Albania. Italy says these sums will send her into bankruptcy. She will be supported by other small powers.

3- Italian colonies. The big four agreed they should be taken away from Italy. They also agreed to give the Dodecanese islands to Italy. Being unable to agree on what to do with the remainder of the colonies they postponed doing anything for one year. Most of the small powers don't think this is much of a solution and Italy is very angry about it.

4- DANUBE NAVIGATION. The big four didn't get around to doing anything about this. The United States and Britain want free navigation of the river on an equal basis. Russia has balked. This is one section of the peace treaty which the 21-nation conference probably will write—although any final decision on the Danube will be left to the big four for approval or veto.

amount will firm contour and fill out muscles which lack contour and tone. However, in order to develop bulging muscles one would have to spend a great deal of time in training. Swimming is perhaps the most delightfully symmetrical development of all sports, although we do sometimes see over-developed chest and shoulder muscles on champion swimmers, particularly those who specialize in the crawl.

AS FOR DANCING, this will give only beauty and pleasure when indulged in generally. After years of intensive ballet training we often find heavy muscles and seldom see a figure that looks pretty in everyday clothes. I do not know how the theory ever started that bicycling will reduce the hips. I think you could ride from now until the time you are 80 without a hip reduction although you would note development of leg muscles.

Therefore, enjoy your sports. Swimming will firm the bust and it will slim the hips. It will build a beautiful body for you. Dancing, as generally indulged in, will add to your health and attractiveness. Bicycling will not reduce the hips but will fill out the legs if indulged in for long periods. Most of these sports, as most folks enjoy them, will simply firm you up and bring you an increase in energy.

SWIMMING HAS a special place for those who are underweight, nervous and poorly developed. It is not such a strenuous reducer as dancing the legs, and will bicycle riding reduce the hips? Can you keep trim by playing basketball? All of these sports in moderate

Wheat is now 80 per cent in head throughout Alberta, with coarse grains at 50 per cent, the sixth crop report of the provincial department of agriculture showed Thursday, and crop prospects in Alberta are considered from good to excellent.

CROP CONDITIONS in these two sectors are reported as only "fair." In the general crop picture there is some damage from hail, with an average for the province of "but damage has not been sufficiently extensive to affect the general picture."

Hay is said to be yielding fair quality and good quantity. Sixty per cent of the alfalfa and 40 per cent of tame hay have been cut. Estimated yields of fall rye vary between 10 and 30 bushels an acre, with an average for the province of 20 bushels. Summer fallow is in fair to good condition.

FESTURES ARE GOOD and condition of livestock is reported as "satisfactory." Buttermilk receipts at creameries showed a decrease of 15 per cent during the first two weeks in July compared with the corresponding period last year.

Extensive damage to crops had struck Northern Alberta crops for the second successive night. Tuesday with up to four degrees of frost at points east of Edmonton. Viking and Kinsella districts are thought to be worst hit.

Designated "retard" of field crops commissioner, said several days would be required before full extent of damage could be known. "WE WILL HAVE TO WAIT" now to see if the crops continue to grow or if the first was sufficiently damaging to retard growth.

The week-end hailstorm and heavy frost of Monday night are resulting in reports which indicate that garden stuffs suffered greater damage than crops.

At Bawlf it was reported that ice formed Monday night, and gardens being frozen off at ground level. Pool agents reported eight degrees of frost from Hardisty to Provost and at Ribstone, with lesser frost at points southeast of Edmonton stretching to and beyond the Saskatchewan border including Minburn, Viking and Hughenden.

Whitecourt, 120 miles east of Edmonton, experienced a general frost, meteorological officials said. Five degrees of frost registered there. Heavy frosts were generally confined to the low-lying valley districts in other parts of the province, they said.

CRATE DAMAGE in Sunday's hailstorm was reported to be in the Vegreville district in a strip three miles wide by 10 miles long. Hailstones here were said to be an inch in diameter, but no damage was reported to livestock or crops.

Damage to crops was said to be scattered, and estimated at from 10 to 100 per cent in strips.

Output of Coal Higher in June

A sizeable increase in the tonnage of coal mined during the month of June as compared with the same period last year is noted in figures released Thursday by John Crawford, chief inspector of mines at Alberta.

DURING JUNE 1946 there was an output of 636,416 tons, an increase of 19,310 tons over June, 1945. The increase was made in the bituminous field, while in the sub-bituminous field a decrease in output is reported.

In the bituminous field 448,642 tons were mined as compared with 421,475 tons in June 1945, while in the sub-bituminous field during June 1946 187,774 tons were mined, which is a decrease as compared with 195,631 tons in June 1945.

Protest Bylaw On Dog Kennels

Asserting that the by-law restricting the number of dogs per household is discriminatory against the agricultural, light and heavy industrial zones was discriminatory against the city of Edmonton, the City Council of Edmonton have requested the city council to repeal for further consideration the by-law passed by city council on June 10 last.

THE ASSOCIATED CANINE Club of Edmonton are members of the Edmonton Kennel Club, the English Cocker Spaniel Club of Alberta and the English Bulldog Club of Western Canada.

It is pointed out in the communication to city council that the restriction of breeding kennels to the agricultural, light and heavy industrial areas practically prohibits such kennels in the city.

It is pointed out that there is not an agricultural zone in the city in which kennel are not kept, and also that the light and heavy industrial zones are located adjacent, or near, railway trackage and are not suitable zones for the location of dog breeding kennels.

CLUB MEMBERS "regret exceedingly" the passing of the by-law and do not have the courtesy to inform the kennel clubs that such a by-law was to be enacted.

It is pointed out that during 1945 taxes paid by kennel owners and dog license fees, contributed $11,862 to the city's treasury, while $65 was the extent of contributions by the mink farms located in the city.

ALSO STRESSED in the communication to city council is the fact that outstanding dogs bred in Edmonton are shown at the major shows throughout the North American continent, and bring valuable publicity to the city.

"THE PUBLIC are therefore respectfully asked to co-operate by conforming to any necessary local regulations."

The prize list includes: altitude guessing contest, a round trip to the Whitehorse, entry forms and prize, a round trip to Yellowknife, donated by CPA. Model aircraft contest in three classes: scale, flying scale and gas model with prizes being one hour dual instruction; three second prizes of one-half hour dual instruction, do-Club; five spot prizes and five lesser program prizes of one-half hour dual instruction.

On both days, the show will wind up with a big dance in the drill hall.

WEDNESDAY Jan. Lakeman, president of the Labor Council, will make representations to the city commissioners seeking the regular flying on a night shift of the city in Edmonton's packing plants.

Mayor Harry Ainlay stated Thursday that a survey was being made by the city commissioners to determine the number of night shift workers now using the "owl service," and paying the 15-cent "flying" fare.

A survey of packing house workers on night shift also will be made, and inquiries will be carried on to determine the possibility of a change of hours for these night workers to permit them using the regular street car service in the early morning hours.

THE COMMISSIONERS are sympathetic to granting of the request made on behalf of the packing house workers, but it is stated that the concession should be made to all night workers. Mayor Ainlay said there are a considerable number of men engaged in garages, and other industries who have to pay for a ruling on the Act's validity when the court convenes in September.

Every night about 700 Jews travel the underground railway out of Poland and into Czechoslovakia, the Czechs estimate. It is a trip replete with danger and misery, a British United Press correspondent reports in the following dispatch after her unique experience of accompanying a group of Jews over the border. Editor:

BY RUTH LLOYD
NACHODZ. Czech-Polish Border, July 25.—(BUP).—Twenty-four Jews, their ages ranging from three months to 73 years, huddled under a tarpaulin lashed over the bed of a truck parked in a dark alley somewhere in Poland.
The terror that the 100,000 or so Jews still in Poland believe to be breathing down their necks, they were outbored on the underground railway to Czechoslovakia.
I clambered aboard the truck and went with them on what I believe was the first such trip by an American correspondent. Many hours—was it years?—later I phoned miserably into this Czechoslovak terminus of the railway. This is the story of the trip.

At least 500 other Jews traveled the underground's rocky paths through the dense forests during the night. A Czech border guard said they averaged 700 a night and totalled almost 30,000 since February. Eighteen secret routes converge on Nachod.

AFTER 20 HOURS of travel from Warsaw, I met by pre-arrangement a young leader of the underground. He closely examined my credentials and made me promise to reveal no names of places on the Polish side of the railway.
He took me to other leaders of the underground who agreed after questioning that I could go along. Attached to the group, I became a part of it and for purpose of the trip lost my identity. Implicit obedience to the commands of the group leader was required. We were to await a summons at 5 p.m.

By midnight it became apparent that we had been stood up. We soon found out why. Our Polish driver had guessed what was going on, and talked too freely at a local saloon. The underground cancelled the scheduled trip.

BUT WE SOON were contacted by a smuggler who offered to take us as a private party—for a tidy sum. I paid the equivalent of $50. We left at once in the pitch darkness and boarded the truck. I sat next to an old man who struck up a whispered conversation in English, Polish and German.

"We started out eight days ago," he said, "but we ran into a Polish border patrol. I guess they were out for sports that night. They tried to turn us back. We put up a fight. We lost and ended up in the city jail with handcuffs, heads and none of our belongings."
Released that afternoon, they were on their way again the same night.

"Nothing," he said decisively, "is going to keep me in Poland, even if I die trying to escape. I would die if I stayed."
AFTER BUMPING OVER rutted back roads for a long time, the truck jolted to a stop. The guide whispered, "we walk from here. No talking. No smoking. Keep in line. Any laggards will be left."
A mother hushed the frightened whimpering of her five-year-old. We left the dirt road, I with my heavy suitcase and knapsack—the rest had pitifully small bundles—and we struck out across the open fields. A lightning flash streaked the sky. We flopped face down to keep our struggling line from being snuffed against the sky, although probably too late to serve that purpose. A drenching downpour tumbled in the wake of the thunder crash. It lasted just long enough to make us soggy and miserable.

THREE TIRED CHILDREN were carried up the slope to which we had come. A frightened gasp from a woman who stumbled brought a sharp hiss of warning from the guide. We headed for a dark mass ahead. In the dense forest, fear settled over us. We knew fleeing Jews often were set upon and robbed by bands roving the frontier no man's land.

For half an hour we toiled a long, slower and slower, as the women tired and begged for rest. Suddenly our groping line froze. Voices ahead. Tense waiting. Then a whispered order to move. We reached again through the dripping scrub.

Our guide didn't speak again until he was ready to pass along the line the whispered words: "We're over."

IT WAS ANYTHING but anticlimactic. The relief was a relief. But we still were in a wooded thicket, with a long journey ahead. It was almost daylight when we reached the edge of the forest and began the downhill walk to Nachod.

Tired, wet, wondering how much longer we could go on, we stumbled into a Czech border guard who guided us to a customs house.
"I wish they would come along the regular highway. We wouldn't stop them. It would save us trouble roaming around every night looking for them to guide them in."
The Czechs are orderly people. The guard didn't understand about the highway beyond the border.

THAT WAS THE END of this particular trip. But for the 24 Jews, and the 100,000 or so struggling to follow them, the night was not over. Some will never get farther than the displaced persons camps in the U.S. zones of Germany and Austria.

$1,594,792 Loaned By Credit Unions

Co-operative credit unions of Alberta loaned a total of $1,594,792 to their members during 1945, an increase of $500,000 over 1944, it was reported Thursday by F.J. Fitzpatrick, provincial supervisor of co-operatives.
THIS FIGURE was divided between 7,845 persons and represents an average of $197.80 each. The loans included a large number of veterans who were assisted in buying homes or establishing businesses, the report showed.
Nineteen new credit unions were established during the year, which brought to 169 the number operating in the province. Membership increased from 14,321 at the end of 1944 to 18,128 at the end of 1945. Per capita assets showed an increase from $65.75 in 1944 to $83.44 in 1945. The average shareholding was $62.22.

Veteran CNR Conductor Is Retiring From Service

When the eastbound flyer of the Canadian National Railways rolls its thousands of tons to a gentle stop in the Edmonton station at 10 o'clock tonight, a traveller of several millions of miles will be able to see the last time in an official capacity as a CNR conductor.

HE IS W.A. MACDONNELL, of 1215 166 avenue, with his arrival Thursday from his run from Blue River B.C., the young-looking 65-year-old conductor will have completed 40 years of service with the railway.

Mr. Macdonnell began his career in 1907 as a brakeman with the old Grand Trunk Pacific at Portage la Prairie and was among the early railwaymen who saw a roadbed span a continent. In 1909 he was promoted to conductor and held that position until 1914 when he was transferred to the G.T.P. later being advanced to passenger trains.

WHEN MR. MACDONNELL joined the staff in 1907 the new automatic couplers had just replaced the old fashioned link-and-pin style coupling. Air brakes, too, were then in their infancy with many of the older cars and coaches still hand braked.

Numbered among the distinguished passengers who have travelled on trains conducted by Mr. Macdonnell were the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Lord and Lady Byng of Vimy. During the visit of the King and Queen to Canada Mr. Macdonnell was assigned to the Royal train.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonnell have a family of four, all of whom are married. With the military head-

Air Line Reports Loss of $750,000

A first-half loss of roughly $750,000 will be sustained by Western Air Lines, but the airline will break into the black sometime during the third quarter, according to D. A. Williams, district traffic representative, Edmonton.

ANALYZING FIRST half profit and loss figures, President William A. Coulter pointed out that the first six-months of 1946 have borne the brunt of a huge personnel expansion program which was necessary to obtain and train sufficient employees to operate more planes and activate new routes as rapidly as additional four-motored aircraft are delivered.

"Inevitably, the hiring and training of sufficient new personnel has necessitated paying out more in current expenses than could be covered by current revenue, due to the fact that the company does not yet have enough airplanes to operate full schedules, serve all our routes or derive substantial income from special charter and cargo flights," Coulter said.

The first-half loss will be in the neighborhood of $1.44 per share. Coulter estimated.

Sailor Makes Home In Cosy Lighthouse

GODSTONE, SURREY, ENGLAND—(CP).—Lt. Cmdr. E. Rogers, R.N., will make his home in a furnished light house at Winterbourne, Norfolk, but he is in no danger of being marooned because the lighthouse stands 300 yards inland. Lord Beauchamp bought the original lighthouse in 1920, turned it into a comfortable home and built a bungalow at the base of the 50-foot tower.

Now the lighthouse has been sold for £3,000 ($12,000).

Surgeons in the English army in the 15th century received $200 a year and 12 cents a day for expenses.

Leadership Course — Progressing Well

The leadership course being held at the Museum of Arts, sponsored by The City of Edmonton Recreation Commission, is now past the halfway mark and attendance at last night's gathering was well over 70 members. This course has been running since July 2 and will carry on until August 8.

W. BULLOCK, vice-president of the Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues, spoke to the group last evening on "Leadership". Mr. Bullock stressed the wide field now open for leaders in recreation work, also pointing out to those present the values derived from being a leader.

Arnold Henderson gave a talk covering all phases of recreation on basketball, covering the history of the sport and such items as refereeing, participation by girls and boys, why the game attracts so many participants and spectators and many interesting little points which make this game one of the most popular indoor sports.

SKETCHING WITH charcoal and colored chalk again proved to be a favorite feature of the evening. Murray MacDonnell sketched several groups of figures for the class and each was then given paper and chalk and proceeded to use their own initiative in creating designs.

Miss Anna Malone, a member of the staff of the Edmonton Public Library, informed the group of material available in the library covering all phases of recreation work.
